

How much does a 24-core fusion splice cost

Overview

Fusion splicing typically runs $50–$150 per splice point. Full breakdown of what drives cost - fiber type, access, contractor overhead, and testing. The "per splice" rate is the most. I usually bill T&M, but it works out to about $175-250 for setup/teardown per site and $4-7 per fiber for prep in a new tray in an existing case and splicing depending on if it's flooded or dry cable. Add another $50-75 to prep a new case endspan or $100-150 for a new case midspan with overcut on. Fiber optic fusion splicers are critical tools for deploying and maintaining fiber networks, with significant variations in performance, features, and pricing. This guide breaks down the key cost-influencing factors across five dimensions—splicer types, technology, performance, accessories, and. The best splicers offer core alignment, fast splice times, durable designs, and smart features like cloud syncing and automated calibration. Top-rated models include the Fujikura 90S+, INNO View 8+, and Sumitomo Type-72C+, each suited to different use cases and environments. High-end models offer advanced features such as automatic alignment and real-time splice loss estimation.
